PERSONAL INFORMATION

Name: Elsa Maria Campos Teixeira

Nationality: Portuguese

Date and place of birth: 14 September 1995, Lisbon, Portugal

Languages: English - Proficient ◦ Portuguese - Native Speaker ◦ Spanish - Conversational Fluent ◦ French - Intermediate (B2/C1 level)

DETAILED SUMMARY

- Research activities (theory, phenomenology, inference). My research focuses on theoretically-motivated models of the dark sector and their signatures in multi-probe cosmological data. I develop and test interacting dark energy/dark matter scenarios (scalar-field and effective-field-theory descriptions), to explain and diagnose current “cosmic tensions” with consistent background and perturbation modelling and robust inference.
- Research responsibilities and outputs. I lead and co-lead research projects from model-building to survey-ready predictions: deriving perturbation equations, implementing models in CLASS, building likelihood/forecast pipelines in MONTEPYTHON, and performing Bayesian and frequentist analyses. I contribute to major collaborations (Euclid) through cosmology forecasting/likelihood work and beyond- Λ CDM modelling.
- Scientific animation and collective responsibilities. I take active service roles in the Euclid Consortium (Early Career Committee; SOC roles; event organisation), in COST actions (COSMOVERSE; COSMICWISPERs), and within my institutes (seminar organisation; scientific programme building). I also contribute as a referee for international journals.
- Training, supervision, and teaching. I supervise and mentor students through projects and collaborations, and I have extensive teaching and marking experience in applied mathematics and scientific computing (tutorials, computing labs, assessment).
- Outreach, dissemination, and community initiatives. I communicate science through public lectures, school events, and popular-science writing (including an article for National Geographic Portugal article), and contribute to community-focused initiatives including sustainability and DEI-related mentoring (diversity, equity, and inclusion).

SCIENTIFIC RESPONSIBILITIES AND RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

My research activity focuses on theoretically motivated models of the dark sector and their confrontation with cosmological observations. I handle the full research pipeline, from model construction and perturbative analysis to numerical implementation and statistical inference.

- Interacting dark sector models: I develop consistent models of interacting dark energy and dark matter beyond phenomenological equation-of-state descriptions. I am responsible for deriving background and linear perturbation equations, analysing stability and consistency conditions, and identifying observational signatures. This includes conformal, disformal, and kinetic couplings, as well as scalar-field scenarios.
- Numerical pipeline: I implement these models in modified versions of the Einstein–Boltzmann code CLASS and interface them with inference frameworks (MONTPEPYTHON). I design Bayesian and frequentist analyses, perform parameter estimation and model comparison, and study degeneracies relevant for cosmic tensions.
- Connection to surveys: I ensure that theoretical developments are survey-ready by contributing to forecasting and likelihood development for next-generation experiments, particularly within large collaborations such as Euclid.

SUMMARY OF OTHER ACTIVITIES

Besides my research, I contribute actively to supervision, teaching, scientific animation, outreach, and group activities. I designed and supervised an undergraduate summer research project at the University of Sheffield (H. O'Donnell, 2021) on Cosmology and Dynamical Systems, guiding the student through analytical and numerical dynamical-systems methods for cosmological backgrounds using MATHEMATICA and Python. I also served on the committee selecting students for this scheme (UGRI) and on the Sheffield SIAM-IMA Student Chapter committees for two years. I also mentor PhD students through ongoing collaborations (including G. Poulot, C. De Leo, A.C. Ferri, A. Poudou, and S. Rahimy), and I have substantial teaching experience as a Graduate Teaching Assistant at the University of Sheffield (tutorials, computing labs, and marking in applied mathematics and scientific computing).

I also take collective responsibilities and contribute to scientific outreach activities. Within the Euclid Consortium, I serve on the Euclid Early Career Committee since 2024 and I'm the chair for the current academic year, representing and supporting early-career researchers and contributing to collaboration-level coordination, such as taking part in selection committees, organising Welcome Sessions and Garage Day events and being in the SOC on the French EC meetings in 2024 and 2025 (led by S. Escoffier from CPPM) and on the international EC meeting in 2025. While in Sheffield, I organised a weekly PhD reading group and a monthly PhD seminar session for the School of Mathematics and Statistics. At LUPM, I organise the PACT seminar series. I am currently co-organising a GGI workshop in Florence (July 2026), a 4-week programme for which I co-wrote the successful scientific proposal (with W. Giarè). I contribute to the wider community as a referee for journals including Phys. Rev. D, JCAP, Phys. Lett. B, and Physics of the Dark Universe. I maintain an academic website where I write about my research and list my publications, talks, teaching activities and outreach content.

Finally, I am passionate about outreach and knowledge dissemination, including public lectures (e.g. "Cosmic Recipe: how to prepare an expanding Universe" at the COSMOVERSE COST Action meeting, in Portuguese, and for a COSMOVERSE Space Week event, in English), school events and science fairs. I authored a popular-science article on the CMB for National Geographic Portugal. I also contribute to community initiatives, including sustainability actions (Hicks Green Impact in Sheffield and the GIEL at LUPM) and mentoring for diversity, equity, and inclusion activities, particularly focused on women in science. For example, in celebration of the IAU Women & Girls in Astronomy Day, in 2021 I made a video about my experience and in 2019 I gave a talk at a highschool. In 2021-2022 I was an Intercultural Buddy for the Girl Move Academy programme. I have given scientific outreach talks at six schools and in 2024 I led a career session at BUSSTEP at the University of Sheffield, advising and discussing with students about my experience as a postdoctoral researcher. Finally, I am currently preparing a popular-science book on physics and astronomy with illustrator Inês Viegas Oliveira, under an approved collaboration with the Portuguese publisher Planeta Tangerina.
